Oversikt

Cycle through Britain's first National Park and explore the forested hills, sprawling heather moors and jagged rock formations that make the Peak District so truly spectacular. This four-day Intrepid Cycling experience offers a comfortable yet active way to get away from it all. Base yourself in the charming country village of Bamford and cycle your way over the scenic Winnats Pass, past the idyllic Laybower Reservoir and the National Trust Longshaw Estate, with ample time to meet the locals and discover friendly local pubs along the way. A countryside cycling escape awaits.

Reiseroute

Peak District - Bamford/Castleton/Hope

Welcome to the Peak District and the charming village of Bamford. Today is arrival day and there are no activities planned until a welcome meeting at 6 pm. Unpack your bags and make yourself comfortable, secure in the knowledge that you will spend the next three nights in the same accommodation, with no need to repack until you leave. Surrounded by high moorland and flanked by the fast flowing River Derwent, the small, friendly village of Bamford has ample local attractions to keep you busy, including the nearby Peveril Castle which dates from the start of the last millennium, and of course the nearby Ladybower Reservoir just north of town. If you're feeling energetic why not hike up to Bamford Edge, a rocky overhang offering sweeping views of the valley and reservoir. Or simply unwind with a walk through the village after a meal at a local teahouse. After the group meeting there's the option of heading out for a meal with your group.

Peak District Cycling

After fuelling up with breakfast this morning, get a bike fitting with the group followed by a short test ride to make sure everything is working properly. Today's ride is an excellent introduction to cycling in the Peak District, a short but at times hilly ride that takes you out of Bamford and through classic rolling scenery to reach the Ladybower Reservoir, one of the largest in Britain. Take a rest and enjoy the views over the water, paying special attention to the what the locals call 'the plughole', a mesmerising sight when the reservoir is full. Follow the eastern contours round the lake then turn back towards the Great Ridge, enjoying stunning views of the so-called Shivering Mountain, the brooding Mam Tor and nearby Man Nick. Then switch to your lowest gear for the famed Winnats Pass as it winds its way through the limestone gorge. From here it's all downhill towards a well-earned brew at the end of the day.

Highlights

Cycle in one of the UK's most dramatic landscapes, the famed Peak District National Park – there are few better views than from handlebar height. Marvel at 'the Shivering Mountain', the brooding Mam Tor, and conquer the challenging Winnats Pass on a steep but stunning ride. Enjoy the famous Peak District hospitality in the many small cafes and shops, and be sure to try one of the area's famous puddings. Indulge in a cool brew from the Intrepid Brewery at local pub as a refreshing reward for a day in the saddle. Enjoy the ease of leaving your cycling shoes at the same comfortable, conveniently located accommodation each night.
